

Copy Right Notice

This eBook is © copyrighted by the author, Jim Thio 2000-2003.
The eBook is short, and hence free. Fill free to make any copy you want as long as this notice and references to website <http://GenePoolSurvivalGuide.com> remains intact.

About Author

Jim Thio won a silver medal in International Physics Olympiad and 2nd price for Jakarta's math competition. He is the author of <http://GenePoolSurvivalGuide.com>, a book using evolution theory on understanding humans' nature.

Abundance World

Capitalism is full with abundance. Really... But why they are still poor people? Are the rich not giving enough?

You see, far more money taken to satisfy envy than money taken to feed and shelter the poor.

Women are attracted to wealth. Women heavily use wealth to select the best genes. If Bill Gates make 1000 of kids, if productive people fulfill the earth, than even feeding the poor is easy. Of course, wealthy men make other men feel uneasy.

Why everybody moves at the same speed in school? So not to offend the mediocre if somebody moves too fast.

Why government regulates job? Well, before workers can choose higher paying occupation. Now if an occupation is highly paid, government accepts more immigrants and do not consistently do so for low pay workers. Hence, effectively every body earns roughly the same salary. The only way to get rich is by being businessmen which is tough in western country.

And why alimony, palimony, and child support are linked to men's wealth? To alter women's pricing strategy. Now women counter intuitively "sell" her sexual and reproductive service at higher cost to more desirable rich male customers. This effectively rations females to poor dumb males.

Of course there is no restrictions whatsoever against poor male making kids. So there are always more and more poor males as excuses to deviate from meritocracy. This is, along with sex laws, are the biggest welfare of all.

As long as those incapable or in anyway fail to positively contribute to economy are shifting out of the gene pool, till they're productive enough, there is little harm on welfare. As long as those that positively contribute greatly to the economy outbreed the parasites and mediocre, there is still a huge incentive to be productive than what exists now. The productive will get more and more.

How sex laws against consensual sex is the main cause of poverty

I used to hate donation, but now, I think private donations will shut up a lot of mouth that speak against capitalism. At the least, it'll worth to promote abolition of far more destructive violation of individual freedom than feeding the poor.

When productive individual like Bill Gates donate billions of dollars to the poor, who got mad? Bill Gates (when he got sober?). Not it's the envy middle class that got mad. Many of them see that their cherished prejudiced, that the rich are evil, shattered. Donating money signals that wealth is not earned because someone is more evil.